

Certech, R&D partner and supplier of analytical and technological services in the field of Process Intensification, Materials and Environment, located in Seneffe (Belgium) is hiring:

A project associate (M/F/X) for its R&D Chemistry and Industrial Process Department

You will be in charge of R&D projects in Chemical Recycling and Process Intensification.

- Job responsibilities
 - Conduct laboratory tests and measurements, in pilot plant or at the customer site
 - Manage projects, follow technical, financial and commercial deadlines, negotiate and obtain support of all the stakeholders, organize project meetings, prepare progress reports
 - Perform technology watch and literature survey
 - Work out project proposals, define and schedule tasks, internal and external resources
 - Identify project opportunities in collaboration with the R&D Manager

- Essential skills and experience
 - PhD or MSc. in chemical engineering, process chemistry or bioengineering
 - Experienced in chemical recycling, catalytic pyrolysis and/or flow chemistry and process intensification
 - Passionate about technological development and innovation
 - Ability to write clear and concise technical reports
 - Good verbal and written communication skills
 - Ability to take initiatives and to act as a team player
 - Structured and organised, results oriented
 - Demonstrates planning and execution skills
 - Ability to manage lab technicians and operators in a matrix environment
 - Safety awareness
 - Customer focus
 - Literate in MATLAB™ and OpenSCAD™ software or equivalent
 - Fluent in French and English, knowledge of another European language is an asset

We offer a varied and flexible job in a pleasant and friendly working environment.

Contact: info@certech.be